

SAFE ROBBED AT FORT DOUGLAS

Commissary at Post the Victim.

Nearly Two Hundred Dollars
Secured by a Clever Rogue.

Private Andrews Is Missing, and Telegrams Are Sent to Apprehend Him.

PRIVATE GEORGE ANDREWS of Company E, Twenty-ninth Infantry, is wanted at Fort Douglas. He is accused of entering the commissary at the post Wednesday evening and robbing the safe of $150, discovery of which was not made until Thursday morning.

Private Andrews had been employed at the commissary of the regiment for the past two years and being very attentive to duty had gained favor among the officers and the robbery was the cause of much surprise.

The soldiers employed at the commissary worked later than usual Wednesday evening and all left the building together about 5 p. m. It is a standing order at the post that after working hours the key to the office shall be turned over to the commissary officer, and this has been the task assigned to Private Andrews. Instead of delivering the key Andrews, it is supposed by the officers, made a circuit of the post after separating with the other employees, went to the office, entered the building and nearly robbed the safe, which had previously been locked by Commissary Sergeant Denner.

It appears that Andrews, who is employed behind the counter, had become familiar with the combination of the safe, and it was, therefore, an easy task to secure the contents.

The money drawer of the safe contained a small tin box, in which was $175 in gold, belonging to Sergt. Denner, a check for $25, and $37.50 in paper and silver currency belonging to the government. The checks were not touched. Sergt. Denner is married and has been placing his hard-earned savings in the safe for keeping. In the money drawer under the counter was $5.16 in silver, $2 of which was taken. This belonged to Regimental Commissary Sergeant Eheart. Two boxes of cigars were also missing. Andrews was seen to leave the post about 5:30 p. m.

The robbery was reported to the post commander as soon as discovered, who ordered that telegrams be sent to important stations on all railroads out of the city, and it is expected that Andrews will be apprehended before many hours.

Lieut. Albert G. Gooding, who is acting commissary during the absence of Capt. Frank D. Ely, is using every means to capture the soldier.

...AMUSEMENTS...

CHARLES A. STEVENSON, who plays the part of the king in "Du Barry," is the husband of Kate Claxton. Recently their son, Harold Stevenson, committed suicide in New York, and now the actress is again stricken, her mother, Mrs. Josephine Martinez Cone, having died a few days ago.

Marie Jansen, the actress, has filed in Boston a voluntary petition in bankruptcy under the name of Hattie M. Johnson, given by her foster father, Ben Johnson. The total liabilities of the former comic opera queen are given at $125. Miss Jansen's assets are given as $17 of this $125 is a claim against Robert Gray of New York, which she says she is unable to collect. Several five dollar bills are the value of her clothing, on which she claims exemption. Being without funds to pay lawyers' fees, Miss Jansen was not represented by counsel, but filed the petition in person. Her present address is Winthrop, where she is said to be earning a living doing needlework.

"Hello, Uppercut! Are you still at liberty?" "No, that's what I was a month ago. I'm simply out of a job now."—Chicago Tribune.

DENVER, June 9.—A theatrical syndicate was formed in Denver today under the name of the United Vaudeville Association. The deal was effected by D. J. Grauman of San Francisco and A. J. Morcan of Los Angeles, who control the ten and twenty-cent vaudeville houses of the Pacific coast, and George Ira Adams of Denver, who controls the Crystal circuit between Salt Lake City and Milwaukee. The new combination proposes to take in all of the ten and twenty-cent vaudeville houses from the Mississippi river to the Pacific coast. There are already thirty houses in the trust and it is expected that eighteen more will be added to the chain.

Hoodlums Disturb Meeting.

The gang of young hoodlums which infests the southeastern part of the city and which has its headquarters at the far end of Seventh South and Seventh East, is making its ruffianism so much felt that the people in that neighborhood are beginning to take steps to have the nuisance done away with. Last night during the performance of the opera, "The Babes in the Wood," this gang was creating such a disturbance outside the Eleventh ward meeting-house, where the performance was going on, that the police were telephoned for. One of the mounted officers appeared on the scene, whereupon the whole gang became conspicuous for its appearance.

CREDITABLE WORK OF THE GRADUATES

Salt Lake Collegiate Institute
Holds Its Commencement Exercises.

HIGHLY creditable to the pupils and the management of the school were the exercises given last night in the First Presbyterian church by and in honor of the twenty-third graduating class of the Salt Lake Collegiate Institute. There were seven graduates, each of whom delivered an oration which spoke volumes for the special attention given by this school to oratory, composition and kindred work. There was music, both instrumental and vocal, all furnished by pupils of the school, under the direction of Miss Edith A. Sutherland, and this as well as a distinct tribute to the school's efficient corps of musical instructors.

Beautifully decorated for the occasion was the church, the platform on which the young graduates were seated and from which they spoke, having been almost a wilderness of palms, roses and white and pink peonies. The house was well-filled with friends of the pupils and of the school and there was no lack on the part of the audience of demonstrations of genuine appreciation of the efforts of the graduates.

The following programme was rendered:

Chorus, "Swing Song".....Frederic N. Loehr
Pupils of the school.
Invocation.....Dr. William M. Paden
"Japan, the Aggressive Spirit of the Orient".....Margaret Katharine Nelson
"Music as a Means of Expression".....Cynthia Alberta Beamer
"The Tragedy of the Transvaal".....James Robert LeMar
Chorus, "In Old Madrid".....Trotter-Garcia
Girls of the school.
"The Source of Our Nation's Greatness".....Amy Sara Quinton
"Woman in Journalism".....Martha Catherine Mathews
"An American Problem".....Edward Leffingwell Troxell
"Nicholas II. and International Peace".....Inez Claire Snyder
Piano solo, "Rustle of Spring".....Christian Sinding
Cynthia Alberta Beamer.
Award of diplomas.
Chorus, "Anchored".....M. Watson
Pupils of the school.

Benediction.....Dr. S. E. Wishard
The orations, as their titles suggest, were timely and without exceptions the subjects were well handled, the speakers having departed from the beaten paths of graduation exercises and displayed commendable originality and depth of thought as well as clearness and elegance of diction.

At the close of the exercises the graduates were the recipients of great quantities of flowers from their admiring friends, while a touching scene was a little later presented when the pupils bade good-by to their instructors, two of whom, Prof. Robert J. Caskey, principal, and Miss Mabelle Morgan, assistant principal, close their connection with the school with this year's work.

Prof. Caskey has been connected with the school for seventeen years, four years as principal of the academic department and the remainder of the time as principal of the school. Since the school was established, in 1875, the pupils have graduated from it, and all but twenty-seven of them have graduated during Prof. Caskey's term of service. The work done by the school during all this period speaks most highly for itself, and no class has been more representative of the school than the one of 1904.

City and Neighborhood

EARLY yesterday morning car 82 of the Murray line was derailed near Murray, but although the car and a telephone pole were damaged by the unexpected meeting, no injury resulted to the crew.

QUITE a large number of friends went to South yesterday morning to attend the funeral of the late well-known railroader, Thomas Belliston, who died Sunday from injuries resulting from the accident of last Friday. He was born in Nephi and leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss. The funeral services were very beautiful and the funeral a fitting tribute to a worthy man.

THE Elks' club has just put in place in the lower room a very handsome buffet, the design by S. W. Sears and the work by J. P. Paulson, is of green oak and highly finished, making it one of the finest club bars in the country.

A MEETING of the State Board of Education was held yesterday for the purpose of considering a number of applications for certificates and to prepare questions for the county teachers' examination.

JOHN A. KIDWELL, president of the National Association of Railway Postal Clerks, is himself a postal clerk in active service, but he talks like a lawyer. At a banquet given in his honor last night, Mr. Kidwell reviewed the work accomplished and being done by his association in the interest of the postal clerks of the country and the service itself in a way which left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that they were fortunate, indeed, to belong to such an organization. There were eighteen of the clerks who were able to be off their runs to meet the president, who has just completed a tour of the entire region west of the Rocky mountains, visiting every branch of the association in the eighth division of the railway postal service. It is the first trip of the kind ever made by a president of the association, of which he is the head. Mr. Kidwell's "run" is between Pittsburg and St. Louis. He expressed himself as highly pleased with his entertainment in this city.

ON ACCOUNT of the indisposition of Miss Jesse Newton, who was to lecture at the University in the afternoon to the teachers attending the summer normal institute and in the evening at Barratt hall, she was unable to deliver them. Her place was taken in the afternoon by Prof. J. H. Welch, who gave a very interesting address, and in the evening by Miss May Babcock. Miss Babcock gave a reading from the American dialect poets and a short lecture on Shakespeare's heroines, with readings which, being delivered in the cultured style familiar to Salt Lake, were warmly appreciated by the audience.

MEMBERS of troop A, National Guard, enjoyed a practice march Wednesday evening, when they were taken to the southern part of the city, where, after a short rest, during which refreshments were served, they marched back to town.

THE W. C. T. U. will observe flower mission day Saturday. They will meet in the basement of the First Presbyterian church to make the bouquets for the prison. One hundred and seventy bouquets will be required and all who are willing to donate flowers and send the same will earn the thanks of the ladies. Flowers are scarce this year and for that reason they will be more appreciated.

THAT size, weight and bluster do not always count in a fight was demonstrated at the Salt Palace last night. Two tourists from Chattanooga, Tenn., and Jefferson City, Mo., were having a friendly dispute, when a large stranger, dressed in a dark suit and derby hat, with a fair complexion, attempted to pick a quarrel with one of them, a man much smaller than himself. The latter, having him the card, endeavored to postpone the quarrel, but was struck between the eyes and knocked twenty feet. He picked himself up and proceeded to strew the ground with his assailant, so that the latter had to be carried home in a hack.

"The situation in Utah is ideal for the working out of the reclamation act," said Engineer Morris Blinn, head of the legal department of the Federal reclamation service, when he last night at the Knutsford hotel. Mr. Blinn had just arrived in the city from California, on the way to Washington, and will spend several days looking over the Utah lake and Jordan river improvement proposition. The success of which he has the greatest confidence. He expressed himself as believing that there were no legal or other complications in connection with this project which will even retard the work. "There are some details to be worked out by the people themselves," he said, "and I believe they will be equal to the occasion."

GLADY MAY WILSON, whose arrest in Ogden was reported in The Tribune yesterday, has been brought down and is now lodging in the city. She is charged with petit larceny. It is alleged that the woman, who describes herself as a dressmaker, was in the possession of $100 in ill-gotten money and had robbed one of the customers of the establishment.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Brooks of Catskill-on-the-Hudson arrived in Salt Lake Wednesday night from New York by way of Mt. Shasta and Portland. Mr. Brooks is delighted with Salt Lake. He says: "I find Salt Lake a beautiful place, with her broad streets and her gutters filled with pure, cold water, coming from the snow-capped mountains. The weather is fine, the air is pure, cool and very bracing."

WEATHER RECORD.

Yesterday's record at the local office of the weather bureau:

We Are Great Coffee Drinkers.
"The people of the United States drink more coffee than any other nation on earth," J. R. Brennan informs me, "but not as much in proportion as the people of certain other countries. When the difference in population is taken into consideration, Brazil far surpasses us as a country of coffee drinkers. Belgium and Holland also excel us in this respect. The consumption of coffee per capita in Brazil is fourteen pounds each year, in Belgium and Holland it is eleven pounds, while in the United States each person in the population consumes an average of about eight pounds annually, but the amount of tea consumed on an average in that country by each person is five times as great as the United States."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Many Prisoners in the Bull Pen

Fifty-Seven Men Held by the Military Authorities at Cripple Creek.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 9.—A party of twenty mounted deputies which left this morning for the vicinity of Beaver Creek in search of a number of men who were reported to have fled in that direction after yesterday's fight at Dunsmuir, returned here with several prisoners. The identity of the prisoners has not yet been disclosed.

Deputies have been busy all day making arrests, and at 6 o'clock there was confined in the bull pen a total of fifty-seven men. Since the wholesale arrests have been in progress the Mine Owners' association office has been filled with men who are flocking there to take out cards, but none are being issued at present.

The funeral of Alexander McLain, the shift boss of the Findley mine, who was killed in the explosion, was held today, and was the largest funeral ever held in this city. Although the streets were muddy, several hundred members of societies of which Mr. McLain was a member, besides 124 citizens, composed of mine-owners, merchants, miners and bankers, walked to the cemetery.

The military had been in session all night and after a few hours sleep resumed its labors at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Its sessions will continue throughout the night, and in the morning another report will be made to Gen. Bell. The General carefully looked over the list of names furnished him today, made some alterations and then said the list and the recommendations were satisfactory.

There were no deportations tonight. It is said, however, that they will begin tomorrow and continue until all the men whom the mine-owners consider objectionable are out of the district. Tonight the city and district are comparatively quiet.

Blaze in Missouri Town.
WARRENSBURG, Mo., June 10.—Fire this morning destroyed Clark's lumber yard and much other property, and is still burning. The loss thus far is $125,000.

Sued by His Doctor.
"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus. It never fails. Sold by all leading druggists.
